European Diploma in HIV Medicine

Applications for the European Diploma in HIV Medicine examination close in one week. Apply today!

One week left to apply for the European Diploma in HIV Medicine examination. Don't miss the chance.

The examination is designed for practising medical professionals in HIV care. It aims to support the harmonisation of clinical practice across Europe and addresses the need for a recognised specialisation in HIV medicine within postgraduate training.

Acknowledging differences in practice between countries, the Diploma helps define minimum standards for education and training. It ensures practitioners have the core knowledge, skills and competencies needed for effective HIV practice.

The 2026 European Diploma in HIV Medicine examination will take place on 25 September 2026. The exam uses Single Best Answer questions to assess competence in HIV management. It offers clinicians an opportunity to:

- Demonstrate clinical proficiency through certification
- Benchmark their knowledge against defined European standards
- Support their continued professional development
- Strengthen professional mobility within the field of HIV care

Applications close on 12 August 2026

Aligned with a shared European curriculum and the latest developments in HIV care, the Diploma aims to support learning, professional growth and improved patient outcomes.
Learn more.

The Diploma offers clear value to healthcare professionals and supports their continued expertise in HIV medicine.

Learn more and apply today!

EACS Secretariat
info@eacsociety.org / www.eacsociety.org

This email was sent to {{ contact.EMAIL }}.
Unsubscribe

© EACS, 2026